Cabinet Officers To Testify On Hot Tariff Issue

Dulles Will Lead Off On Trade Hearing

Washington (AP)—Six Cabinet officials will testify this week on a single issue packed with political, economic and international implications—tariffs and trade.

The House and Ways Committee announced yesterday that Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey will be leadoff men today in a parade of administration witnesses on a bill to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year.

The secretaries of commerce, agriculture, interior and labor, and Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen are to give their views Tuesday and Wednesday.

Such a lineup of top officials on a single bill was taken in some circles as indicating the Eisenhower administration will fight a move led by some powerful Republicans in Congress to bolster tariff walls against some foreign goods sold here.

That could have important political repercussions. The chief sponsor of the bill before the committee is Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.), chairman of the Congressional Campaign Committee—the group that will work with Eisenhower to try to hold and strengthen Republican control of the House in the 1954 elections.

Economically, more than two score witnesses told the committee last week, the issue means life or death to scores of American industries allegedly threatened with destruction by growing imports of cheaper foreign goods.

Internationally, relations with free world allies will be affected. Britain, France, Germany, Japan and other foreign nations have argued eagerly that they need to sell more products here to bolster their short supply of dollars.

Simpson has indicated he is willing to compromise on some of his key points, but not all. Whether the administration will show a mood to compromise remains to be seen.

'Red Label' Is Resented By GI POWs

Phoenixville, Pa., (AP)—A group of former American prisoners of war yesterday expressed deep bitterness over the "Red label" they said had been hung on them on their return to Valley Forge Military Hospital for special treatment.

Ten of a group of 23 flown to Valley Forge Friday night reported for news interviews, two at a time, to "try to remove some of the false stigma that has come our way."

Four refused to take part in the conference and a hospital spokesman said their action was based on their "bitterness over the whole situation."

GOOD RIDDANCE TO AMERICA-BAITERS

(Mrs. Kuhn, who authored the first journalistic autobiography by a woman, "Assigned to Adventure," has recently written "The Enemy Within," a first-hand account of the Red menace in China.)

We just can't win, I guess. Two ex-Germans, who fled to this country for safety and refuge when the Nazis were giving them the hot-foot, have now returned our hospitality with a kick in the teeth.

Each has given the United States the back of his hand, the sole of his foot and the sharp edge of his tongue, leaving us flat for Europe.

And since that nervous continent, thanks to the blood of American youth, American arms and vulgar but useful American dollars, is now technically at peace as well as intellectually and politically deloused of Nazism, it is, therefore, far preferable to this ungrateful pair than our uncultured environment.

Both these former Europeans, novelists Stefan Heym and Thomas Mann, are in the country.

Three Americans Among 43 Persons Found Dead After BOAC Comet Crash

Calcutta, India, (AP)—One of Britain's famed new Comet jet passenger planes smashed to bits in a heavy storm near here Saturday and airline officials said all 43 persons aboard—including at least three Americans—were killed.

It was the worst disaster in the brief history of commercial jet air travel and the first fatal crash of a Comet carrying a payload.

The swift four-jet airliner operated by the British Overseas Airways Corp. presumably crashed only a few minutes after it took off from Dum Dum Airport here for New Delhi. It was on a regularly scheduled flight from Singapore to London. Radio contact with the plane stopped six minutes after it streaked away in a heavy rain.

A BOAC search craft sighted the wreckage early yesterday morning, scattered over a large area only 22 miles northwest of Calcutta in rough barren country.

A ground rescue party reached the area yesterday afternoon and reported none of the 37 passengers and crew of six had survived in the crash which preliminary reports said may have been caused by a fire or explosion shortly after take-off.

The three Americans who boarded the plane at Singapore, were identified as Miss Jean S. Cohen and Miss Anita Whistler, on a round-the-world tour, and the Rev. Paul Sneed, Methodist missionary reportedly on his way to a home leave with his family in Nyack, N. Y.

Other passengers got on when the plane stopped at Bangkok and Rangoon. Besides the two American girls, there were nine other women including the plane's stewardess and two children—one an infant—aboard the ill-fated craft.

Identification of the passengers was extremely difficult owing to poor communications between Far Eastern points where they boarded the plane. The home addresses of the two American girls were not known immediately, but a Robert Cohen in Baltimore, Md., was reported to have a sister, Jean S., touring the world on an itinerary that would have put her near Singapore at about this time.

Millikin Says Congress Will Be 'Merciless' In Ripping Foreign Aid Fund

Washington, (AP)—Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.) predicted yesterday that Congress may be "rather merciless" in ripping into the Eisenhower administration's expected request for $5,800,000,000 in foreign aid funds.

Congress begins reviewing this program Tuesday with testimony before the combined Senate and House Foreign Relations Committees by Secretary of State Dulles, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Harold E. Stassen, the mutual security director, and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

In line with President Eisenhower's efforts to approach budget balancing, these officials are expected to recommend that former President Truman's recommendation for $7,861,000,000 in foreign aid spending be cut back to $5,800,000,000.

Millikin, who heads the Conference of All Republican Senators, said in an interview he regards this as a "good start," but added he thinks Congress will want to cut the figure even more.

"I think Congress may be rather merciless in its cuts," he said.

In a similar vein, Sen. George (D-Ga.), top Democrat on the foreign relations committee, said he doesn't believe the country is "in the humor" to continue high level foreign aid spending in the face of indications that Western Europe will not be asked to expand previous defense goals.

Byrd estimated that actual expenditures on foreign military aid for the current year, ending June 30 would be four billion dollars. He put economic aid at $1,700,000,000.

The five were on the way to the Quotarian Club convention at the Poonos resort. They were treated at Pottsville Hospital.

Depressed Mother Kills Her Four Small Children

Mahwah, N.J. (AP)—A depressed young mother, estranged from her well-to-do husband, killed her four small children yesterday by running a car engine in a closed garage.

She failed to take her own life. Deputy Atty. Gen. Ellis Kopp said Mrs. Carol MacDonald, 29, apparently changed her mind after setting up the death trap in the garage with the family station wagon, but it was too late.

The children—two boys and two girls from two to seven years old—were dead of carbon monoxide poisoning when she came back to the garage, broke the glass in the door and tried to drag them out.

Kopp said Mrs. MacDonald evidently intended to commit suicide and left six suicide notes. But he added there was no evidence she actually had tried to kill herself.

The hysterical mother's story was so hazy, Kopp said, that it couldn't be determined whether she had been in the car with the children at any time.

Thailand Is Alarmed By Laos Invasion

Bangkok, Thailand, (AP)—The invasion of Laos by Communist-led Vietnamese hordes is causing increasing nervousness in Thailand, which borders the Indochina kingdom on the south and west.

One of the immediate problems is the presence within Thai borders of 50,000 Indochina refugees, a substantial number of them Communist sympathizers. Most of them crossed from Laos, one of the three Associated States of Indochina, when French control returned to Indochina after the Japanese occupation.

They located in three large communities in Northeast Thailand. The Thai government now is trying to separate those with Communist leanings and force them into restricted areas. One of these communities is Nongkhai, a town on the Mekong River just across from Vientiane, administrative capital of Laos, and a likely target of the Vietnamese invaders of Laos.

The invaders are now 10 or 12 miles from the royal Laotian seat at Luangprabang, north on the Mekong. The defenders of the royal capital clashed with the invaders for the first time Sunday in a patrol action 12 miles to the north.

Thai Premier P. Pibulsonggram announced last week that Thai military units now man the entire border with Laos. He also said in an interview that the government has ordered preparations for general mobilization in case the Vietnamese threat to Thailand increases.

Successful invasion of Thailand could open the way for a Communist-led march through Malaya, rich in rubber and tin, to Singapore.

Korean War In New Fury

Seoul, (AP)—The Korean War blazed with new fury Sunday on the ground, at sea and in the air.

Canadian troops fought off a whirlwind Chinese Communist attack that raged for 2½ hours inside Allied lines.

The Eighth Army said 750 to 1,000 Reds were driven off only after "intense hand-to-hand combat in the trenches."

No casualty estimates were announced. In the air, Allied planes by the hundreds bombed and rocketed Communist targets behind the Western Front. Newly-converted Sabre jet fighter-bombers—fastest in the world—led the attacks.

Off the East Coast, the 45,000-ton battleship New Jersey opened fire with 16-inch gun batteries. The first salvo struck a rail bridge at Hungnam, the Navy reported.

Then the New Jersey, accompanied by the destroyer Colahan, began a day-long shoot off that major Red port and rail center.

Navy aircraft from the carrier Princeton made daylight strikes at a troop billeting area on the outskirts of Hungnam and reported excellent results.

Johnson Appeals For Sales Tax Votes On Basis It Will Not Hurt Laboring Fellow

(See Editorial Page Four)

Harrisburg, (AP)—With battle lines clearly defined after five weeks of skirmishing, Republican House leaders today make another stab at ferreting out enough votes to put through a state sales tax.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House GOP floor leader, appealed to "four or five" GOP holdouts to recognize such a tax as the way to avoid hurting the "average laboring fellow" and yet to solve the state's financial dilemma.

For five weeks the House Republican leadership has struggled to put across a sales tax as the most likely way to raise 157 million dollars in new revenue Gov. John S. Fine estimates is necessary to balance the budget for the next two years.

As it stands now after multiple revision, the levy would be one per cent.

"With exemptions for food, shelter, laundry and other similar things," Johnson said, "the average wage earner would pay hardly more than $5 a year. In effect it's a graduated income tax."

It was a personal income tax that hamstrung the 1951 legislature into a record 12-month session before GOP leaders turned to a package collection of small levies to solve the problem.

Lack Of Funds Holds Up Pay In School Health Program

Harrisburg, (AP)—The pay of more than 1,200 doctors, dentists and school nurses taking part in school health programs was delayed yesterday by a lack of funds.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, state secretary of health, notified all school authorities and medical and dental examiners that further payments for services would have to be deferred because appropriations for the program have been exhausted.

The department ceased payments, he said, on receipt of an opinion from the attorney general which states that "no further payments can be made until additional funds have been appropriated by the General Assembly for this purpose."

Dr. Teague said the pay would be deferred "until such a time as the General Assembly makes funds available for the purpose."

A bill authorizing just under three and one-half million dollars for the program passed the Senate last week and went back to the House for consideration. As originally passed by the House it included an additional seven millions for the school employees' retirement fund.

Dr. Teague estimated that over 2,000 doctors, 1,000 dentists and 1,200 school nurses give part-time services for the program. State law requires all children of school age to undergo a complete physical and dental exam.

Truce Talks Are Resumed After Layoff

Panmunjom, Monday (AP)—The newly revived Korean truce talks begin the second week of intense sparring yesterday after a one-day layoff asked by the Reds for undisclosed reasons.

The top order of business on the Allied agenda was the naming of a neutral nation to handle some 48,000 Chinese and North Korean war prisoners who refuse to return voluntarily to Red rule.

The session was due to start at 11 a.m., (9 p.m., Sunday, EST).

The U. N. Command team, headed by Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, was reported prepared to consider any non-Communist Asian nation which the Communists may nominate for caretaker of the reluctant prisoners.

India and Pakistan were understood to be receiving special attention, informed authorities said.

The Reds talked about India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan all as acceptable but failed to name their specific choice in the last meeting on Saturday.

The Reds gave no inkling in advance of Monday's meeting that they were ready to name their choice of a neutral. In the past, however, the Communists have used such layoffs for consultations—presumably with higher authorities.

All last week North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red delegate, maintained that the Communists would refrain from naming a neutral custodian until the Allies agree to send all unwilling captives to neutral soil after a truce is signed. While the captives are on neutral soil the Reds want time to persuade the non-Communists to return home.

The Allies have insisted that all Red captives who refuse repatriation be held in Korea and that the neutral take over their control on this peninsula.

While the issue of able bodied prisoners remained highly controversial, the Allies returned the last sick and wounded Communist prisoners Sunday. The last man was a North Korean soldier on a stretcher.

In all, the U. N. turned over 6,670 Reds—870 more than originally estimated. In return, the Allies received 684 disabled Allied soldiers, including 149 Americans—79 more than the Communists promised.

General Flies Against Reds

Seoul, Monday, (AP)—The bold commanding general of the U. S. 5th Air Force has flown 13 Sabre jet combat missions in the last month and taunted the Reds by radio while over the target, it was disclosed last night.

On May Day stocky Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, 49, personally commanded a 50-plane Sabre strike against the North Korean Army headquarters and radio station just north of the Red capital of Pyongyang—one of the heaviest anti-aircraft defended positions the Reds have.

The raid was so swift and surprising the American jets were off the target before the Reds guns started shooting.

Another strike led by Barcus swept clear to the Yalu River border of Manchuria.

On none of the missions did Barcus tangle with Communist MIG jets, although he sighted two below him on the Yalu River mission. Both were streaking for home.

On all his flights, Barcus has taunted the Reds over a radio circuit the Red pilots most frequently monitor.

"This is Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, commander of the U. S. 5th Air Force," he told them. "I don't like the way you are talking about the 5th Air Force. How did you like the way we were doing today?"

"We'll be back . . . we will smash anything we want up here."

Disclosure the three-star general, who is due to return to the U. S. next month, has been flying combat was allowed by the Air Force censor only last night.

An Air Force spokesman said the general began combat missions because "he feels he should be up there with the rest of the boys."

Direct Eight Townships, One Borough Join Single County School District

(Second in a series of articles on mandatory re-grouping of school districts into units under a new county plan.)

Under the provisions of the plan submitted by State School Facilities Survey, Unit 2 in Monroe County would be made up of eight townships and one borough.

When the SSFS presented its version of a new county plan which must be worked out in compliance with Act 261, Monroe County School Board members rejected this all-inclusive unit as unfeasible.

State's original plan grouped the following district together in one lump: Tunkhannock, Tobyhanna, Coolbaugh, Jackson, Pocono, Paradise and Barrett townships and Mount Pocono borough (in Monroe) along with Buck township in Luzerne county.

Harold Martin, chairman of the survey, told county directors the State recommended one high school for four elementary schools for the nine districts.

The four grade schools would be located at Pocono Lake; in Coolbaugh, in Barrett and in Pocono townships. A secondary school would be erected in the approximate center of school population.

County school directors objected heavily to the nine-district proposal. Their principal objection was based on transportation problems, especially during winter months, when bus travel becomes more difficult on treacherously narrow mountain roads.

Martin told the county board that if it did not accept the State School Facilities Survey plan it would have to submit one of its own.

County school directors have now drawn up a "suggested county plan" which has not been approved either locally or by the State. This plan draws up five school units and follows the map-drawn printed in Thursday's edition of The Daily Record.

Under the county's suggested unit-system, Unit 2 would consist of only Tunkhannock, Tobyhanna, Coolbaugh and possibly Buck township (Luzerne). Also suggested by the county for inclusion in Unit 2 would be pupils from Critton township in Luzerne county, most of which are already attending the Coolbaugh school, and would continue there.

The county's suggestion recommends that the one school building in Tunkhannock township, which houses grades one to six, be allowed to remain open until the pupils could be absorbed as part of the Tobyhanna township school.

Tobyhanna township Consolidated School, housing grades one through twelve, would be used for all elementary students of that township and, later, the grade school pupils from Tunkhannock.

Tobyhanna's secondary school would also take care of students from Tunkhannock and Tobyhanna townships in Monroe and, possibly, Buck and Bear Creek townships in Luzerne.

According to the county's suggested plan: "Construction of a Signal Corps Depot (and housing) in Coolbaugh will probably bring into being a new large high school unit that will be built with the help of the Federal Government."

Prospective enlargement of the school population by eventual housing developments at the Signal Depot is not considered a major consideration by the State in its plan.

During 1952-53 Unit 2 had a total school population of 415 pupils, excluding non-resident pupils from Buck and Lehigh townships.

This includes 263 pupils in grades one to six; 83 pupils in grades seven to nine and 69 pupils in grades ten through twelve.

Tunkhannock now has 22 high school pupils who are being transported to the Tobyhanna Township Secondary School. Another 14 high school pupils are being brought in to that school from Buck township, Luzerne.

At Coolbaugh secondary school, 12 Lehigh township (Wayne) pupils are now being transported for attendance.

In setting up its "suggested plan," the Monroe County School Board has taken into consideration the primary factor of transportation. This factor, which is the biggest hitch to the State School Facilities Survey's plan for combining Units 2 and 3, makes carrying students from outlying districts highly unfeasible.

In their outline of the "suggested plan," county directors point out that "many of these pupils who attend these schools (in Tobyhanna and Coolbaugh townships) already spend one and one-half hours traveling to school and the same time returning to their homes from school."

"To increase the amount of time spent in travel would work an unreasonable hardship on the children and their families, the county board argues.

as Mann, found safety, peace, freedom, security, honors, wealth and fame here when less fortunate fellow-Germans were dying in concentration camps. But they have now quit us, Heym to settle in Communist East Germany, Mann in Switzerland.

Heym came here in 1935 and was granted a graduate scholarship at the University of Chicago. He wrote "Hostages," a novel about life under the Nazis, which won him praise and money. He wrote other books, too.

He has been out of the United States for the past three years, but his reputation of his American citizenship was reported just recently by the official East German news agency, A. D. N.

That Communist source quoted Heym as having said: "The warlike and fascist policy of the present American government makes it impossible for an honest man to be an author in America and publish his works there." (Heym's latest book was published here in 1951.)

He gave as an added reason for having left the United States the fact that he faced a call to active duty as an Army officer. He did not want to serve in the Army, he said, because it was recruiting "convicted Nazi war criminals" and employing bacteriological war weapons.

He said he had sent his Bronze Star, won in the Battle of the Bulge, and his Army commission, to President Eisenhower. He was further quoted as hoping to find in East Germany those "personal rights" he said were lacking here.

The East German government also restored Mr. Heym's former German citizenship, so he can now be assumed to be a happy German Red, with all those wonderful personal rights the Soviet or satellite citizen so enjoys and cherishes that hundreds of East Germans try to escape daily into the Western zone of their conquered and divided country.

He, at least, has had the comparative decency to give up his American citizenship when it no longer serves his ends.

Thomas Mann, on the other hand, who won far greater honors and considerably more wealth here than the younger man, is playing it safe, keeping his kuck-en and eating it at the same time.

Last December Mann called a press conference in Vienna and announced that he had rented a small house in Erlenbach, Switzerland.

"Freedom is slightly restricted in the United States," he said, "and unless events make me change my mind again, I would rather spend the rest of my life in a European atmosphere."

"However," he added, "I will naturally remain an American citizen."

Naturally. Good old Uncle

Sam can always be depended upon to forgive and forget and bail out Europe and Europe-born off-again-on-again-Americans the next time the natives start snarling and shooting.

And then those returned natives who can't bear the discomforts of war, and had the foresight to hang on to their U. S. naturalization papers and passports will start clamoring for plane seats to the United States.

Will we welcome them back? Of course we will—with lecture, book, TV, radio and movie contracts, and an invitation to kick us in the teeth again anytime they feel the urge.

Of about 100 different elements known to modern scientists, only nine—copper, tin, gold, silver, iron, lead, sulphur, mercury and carbon were known to men who lived before the year one.

Special Gifts Leaders Feel YMCA Building Fund Will Be Met

Gillam Has Confidence In Results

The leaders of the Special Gifts Committee of the YMCA "Finish The Job" Building Fund Campaign feel that it is well within the power of that committee to complete the $350,000 campaign.

C. R. Gillam, chairman, says there is a rising tide of confidence in the success of the Monroe County YMCA building program. Some of the workers have completed, or almost completed, their cards. Others are just in the midst of negotiations, with excellent prospects.

The committee will meet at a special table with the Teams Organization, Tuesday evening at 6:15 at the Penn-Stroud.

The group has adopted as a slogan "Our Job's Not Done Until The Goal Is Won."

The Special Gifts goal for 300 gifts was $299,000 to date they have reported 169 gifts for $210,700. Mr. Gillam said that in the main the larger contributors had given very generously, and that others have indicated their desire; or have already joined the "Give More Club," to the end that the total campaign goal be realized.

The committee has 134 cards unreported at this time. Those serving on the Special Gifts committee are: C. R. Gillam, chairman; Jesse S. Flory and J. Albert Groner, vice-chairmen; Lester G. Abloff, Harry Albert, Gerald Anderson, M. S. Baldwin, Charles R. Bensing, Rev. Frank H. Blatt, William H. Clark, Clifford Craner, E. Kenney Crothers, Montgomery F. Crowe, R. LeRoy Dengler, Harry J. Dreannan, Ted Getz, George Graff, Elton F. Hall, Edward C. Hees 2nd, Roy M. Houser, Dr. Claus G. Jordan, H. L. Kelper Jr., Frank S. LaBar, Dale H. Larn, Rev. Harold MacMurray, Walter R. McClelland, Peter Mender, C. Raymond Michener, LeRoy Mikels, Gerald P. O'Neill, Merle C. Osborn, W. S. Peeney, Glenn Sanborn Jr., Warren Mikels, John Shinn, Joseph Small, Jere H. Stoffel, Henry C. Tucker, Nelson Westbrook, A. W. Williams, John R. Wilson, E. H. Wyckoff, Holt Wyckoff and John H. Zink.

The Special Gifts committee intends to continue its work. It will meet regularly until the entire goal has been secured. They will be joined by a group of volunteers (Commandos) from the Teams organization, who will continue to systematically see those who have been missed to date.

Mr. Gillam has set the date of May 19 for a most important meeting of the Special Gifts committee. The leaders hope to report such generous pledging and indication of intent to contribute over a three-year period that they may be in a position to recommend to the Board of Directors that contracts be let for the construction of the entire building by the time the present bids expire May 24.

It is estimated some $50,000 of additional expense may be saved by doing the entire job at once.

Holt Wyckoff, general co-chairman in charge of the Teams organization, reports that they have received to date $41,351.50 on the teams goal of $50,400. Bringing the total to date—Special gifts and Teams—to $252,051.50 on the campaign goal of $350,000.

Police Arrest Local Man After Witnessing Assault

Stroudsburg police yesterday said they arrested a man who threw his wife to the pavement on Main St. and knocked her down again when she got up.

He was Clifford S. Boushell, 30, of 122 Elizabeth St., East Stroudsburg.

Officer John Trethaway was one of two police who said they saw the fight. He reported Boushell and his wife had been in a diner. They came out and during an argument near the Sherman Theater, Boushell threw his wife down, police said.

Police started for the spot. Mrs. Boushell got up off the ground but was struck and knocked down again, according to police. Officers said they arrived and ended the fracas at that point.

Boushell was charged with disorderly conduct; Trethaway was arresting officer and William Dwyer was committing officer.

Boushell was held in the county jail. Hearing on the charge was scheduled for today before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, Stroudsburg.

Miner's Fuse Helps Solve Fire Cases

A piece of fuse was the clue which led to charges of incendiarism against four thrill-seeking Pocono Lake and Pocono Pines boys, police said yesterday.

Investigation had followed a series of brush, grass and forest fires in the region.

Investigation was started by Constable Thomas Christie, Pocono Lake. He was joined a week ago by Pfc. Joseph Mekuta of the Mount Pocono State police.

The boys are aged 17, 16, and two 15, police said. Under questioning, one of the younger boys admitted the fires and implicated his three companions, police said.

The boys were released in custody of their parents. They will be taken before juvenile court to answer charges of incendiarism and burning of forest lands, police said.

First clue was the piece of miner's fuse which had not burned completely. It was found after one of the blazes was extinguished.

Investigation disclosed that one of the boys had a relative who was a strip miner in another county. The clue led to questioning which brought the confessions, police said.

According to police, the boys set the fires, then joined volunteers in fighting them.

Second-Class Citizens?

Just where do the schools of the Borough of Stroudsburg come in on the "earmarked-for-education" sales tax proposal now before the House in Harrisburg?

We feel that's a perfectly sound question which some people—not excluding teachers and principals—should study before they put pressure on their Representative in the General Assembly to be for what they call "a broad-based tax."

For their benefit and that of Rep. John S. Shotwell, we'll answer the question here. The answer is:

That Stroudsburg comes out on the short end of the deal—way short.

The district does not fare at all well.

About all the citizens of Stroudsburg will do is pay—and plenty.

The Stroudsburg schools are almost out in the cold. It's about time some of our citizens start raising a little fuss about it—not worrying selfishly about their own interests.

And we don't mean just Rep. John S. Shotwell. We mean every citizen, every teacher. Mr. Shotwell, you may be interested to know, has been subjected to terrific pressure ever since Friday to be for "a broad-based tax." He and eight other Assemblymen are all that now stand between you and a bad sales tax.

Under a sales tax, Stroudsburg would kick in about $200,000 a year. And how much of this "earmarked-for-education" tax returned to Stroudsburg? Get this.

We would receive in return for our taxes something over $100,000, perhaps $120,000.

That is all we qualify for under the incredibly complicated State school subsidy setup.

It is our considered opinion that people of Stroudsburg are not interested in being first-class taxpayers and second-class citizens.

Tell Rep. Shotwell to stick to his guns.

Impetuous Protests

In the matter of the announced decision of the Department of the Army to close the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation on September 1 as an active training site, we feel as regretful as the next person that such an action is impending.

But we cannot, in all conscience, join the impetuous protests being hurled at Washington from many points, for we feel that there is still insufficient information on the decision to permit mature judgment.

If our citizenry is to be logical, it cannot loudly proclaim its insistence on economies in the Department of Defense and with equal loudness demand the retention of every facility recommended for deactivation by the armed forces.

And we deplore the thought behind the telegram sent to many Washington points by Pottsville, whose Chamber of Commerce declared that "1,000 civilian workers from Schuylkill County work at Indiantown Gap and will join relief roles if laid off." The Pottsville wire adds that there are already 7,500 persons out of work in that county.

One would be unsympathetic and unfeeling indeed if he failed to regret the unemployment of so many persons, but to suggest that a military post should be kept on active status in order to retain the jobs of 1,000 civilian workers seems to us to be somewhat off the beam.

No one in his right mind celebrates cut-backs, especially if they injure the economy of his community. But might it not be well to have all the facts on the Indiantown story before sounding off to Washington?

THE REAL NEWS NEWHEEL

America faces a puppy crisis. The dog shortage has reached alarming proportions. "Doggie in the Window," a top song on Hit Parade, is responsible. It has mushroomed into the theme song of the pet shops. Never has the country been so pooch conscious. The pet shops are having trouble keeping the windows full. Some have been forced to put in a supply of cats.

The song is the plaintive wail of a little girl for a puppy in a pet store window and it now amounts to a nationwide radio and TV plug for puppy sales. Smart preceptors have opened phonograph stores next door and kept the record going full blast. Perhaps never have so many puppies found themselves in homes not exactly prepared for the job of raising their property. There should be a Tin Pan Alley sequel entitled "Housebreaking Headache in the Apartment."

We interviewed a distressed poodle yesterday. "It's terrible, the pooch said. 'I was stared at by such mobs that at first I thought I must be a giraffe. Then I heard the kids singing 'Doggie in the Window' and began to understand. I've been stared at, petted, lifted up, crowned over and bargained over so much it's ruined my disposition. Why doesn't some song writer give us a break and write a number 'Goldfish in the Transom' or 'Goopies in the Doorway?'"

A few hours ago we heard of a Boston terrier that had plunged through the plate glass window and dashed down the street buckety - buckety, with one thought in mind... to bite dog jockeys and Patti Page!

A former Marquette football star has been arrested as a suspect in a St. Louis bank robbery... So many were involved in it that there were suspicions that a two-platoon system was employed... Warned that Replicore might elude him, he replied, of course, "He can run but he can't hide, can he?"... The Jersey Supreme Court has overruled a Newark police chief's ban on Minsky burlesque, holding, perhaps, that the chief hasn't a leg to stand on... We would like to see the matter carried to the high court at Washington because we have always wondered how Justices Frankfurter, Douglas and Black would rule on the strip-tease and its relation to a dynamic democracy... The Twentieth Century-Fox three-dimension Cinema Scope is so good that even shallow stories seem to have depth...

Three senators have a job all ready and waiting for former President Truman when he gets back to politics again. They want him to campaign for them next year. They are Senators Matthew Neely (D. W. Va.), Hubert Humphrey (D. Minn.) and James Murray (D. Mont.), and each faces an admittedly tough battle. They are militant liberals and powerful opposition will be thrown against them. Reason these three senators want Truman to campaign for them is the belief that he is popular in their states. He has electrified repeatedly in them and the trio is already planning a repeat performance in the stormy congressional battle a year hence. Note: The powerful AFL Machineist union is enlarging its "Non-Partisan Political League" in preparation for the 1954 campaign. The League will concentrate chiefly on New York, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California and Texas.

Dead Duck... It is now definite that there isn't a chance in the world of the excess profits tax being extended beyond June 30, when it is due to expire. Authority for that is Representative Daniel Reed (R. N. Y.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which has jurisdiction over revenue legislation. Reed made that flat prediction to Representative Herman Eberhart (D. Pa.), member of the Committee who wants to continue this business tax.

Eberhart asked Reed when he planned to hold hearings on former's bill. Reed shook his head. "There will be no need for hearings on your measure," said Reed. "Why not?" demanded Eberhart. "It's customary to hold hearings on pending legislation, particularly on a matter as important as the excess profits tax."

"That's right," agreed Reed amiably, "but your legislation isn't pending. You see, we've already decided to let this tax die. We haven't any intention of extending it. When it expires on June 30, that will be the end of it. So there is no reason to hold hearings on your bill. They would be a waste of time and effort."

Undertaken by this rebuff, Eberhart has written a letter to Treasury Secretary George Humphrey asking his views on the measure. Note: Reed is telling colleagues that House Republican leaders have promised to allow him to bring his bill to cut income taxes this year before the full house for a vote by May 20. If that is done, the chamber will approve the measure by an overwhelming majority.

Reds Divert In Korea To Cover Indo-China Attacks

Washington—There is steadily growing evidence that the Communists are up to their old tricks again in the revived Korean truce negotiations. Highly suspicious developments indicate the Reds are using these talks as a diversionary stratagem while they carry out carefully-prepared aggressions in Indo-China and adjoining Thailand.

Conclusive information has been obtained that the Communists will attempt a blitz seizure of Thailand if they succeed in overrunning Laos. It is definitely known the Reds have built up a powerful "fifth column" in Thailand to spearhead the assault on that country. The native government is aware of that and is taking measures to cope with this sinister situation. But serious doubts exist as to their timeliness and adequacy.

Pentagon authorities now strongly suspect that the Communists' "peace offensive" is geared to a definite time-table of which the Korean negotiations are the first phase. As reported by Intelligence sources, the main features of this crafty scheme are as follows: The enemy has decided to agree to an armistice in Korea, but only after extended stalling in order to gain time to pull off the conquests in Indo-China and Thailand.

If the Reds can get away with this they will have won two major triumphs, one political and one military. Their political victory would be in forestalling UN demands that the Communists cease their aggressions in Indo-China, Burma, Malaya, Thailand and other Far Eastern countries. UN negotiators would be certain to insist on such guarantees at the political conference that is slated to be held 90 days after the signing of a Korean truce.

The Reds are attempting to drag out the Korean discussions in a race against that 90-day deadline. If they can seize Laos and Thailand before the post-Korean political conference takes place, the Communists could be in a strong position to insist that these two conquests be excluded from consideration at that parley.

Their military victory would consist of being in possession of these two victim nations and the only way the aggressors could be evicted would be by a costly war.

Welcome, Harry! Three senators have a job all ready and waiting for former President Truman when he gets back to politics again. They want him to campaign for them next year.

They are Senators Matthew Neely (D. W. Va.), Hubert Humphrey (D. Minn.) and James Murray (D. Mont.), and each faces an admittedly tough battle. They are militant liberals and powerful opposition will be thrown against them. Reason these three senators want Truman to campaign for them is the belief that he is popular in their states. He has electrified repeatedly in them and the trio is already planning a repeat performance in the stormy congressional battle a year hence.

Note: The powerful AFL Machineist union is enlarging its "Non-Partisan Political League" in preparation for the 1954 campaign. The League will concentrate chiefly on New York, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California and Texas.

Dead Duck... It is now definite that there isn't a chance in the world of the excess profits tax being extended beyond June 30, when it is due to expire. Authority for that is Representative Daniel Reed (R. N. Y.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which has jurisdiction over revenue legislation.

Reed made that flat prediction to Representative Herman Eberhart (D. Pa.), member of the Committee who wants to continue this business tax.

Eberhart asked Reed when he planned to hold hearings on former's bill. Reed shook his head. "There will be no need for hearings on your measure," said Reed. "Why not?" demanded Eberhart. "It's customary to hold hearings on pending legislation, particularly on a matter as important as the excess profits tax."

"That's right," agreed Reed amiably, "but your legislation isn't pending. You see, we've already decided to let this tax die. We haven't any intention of extending it. When it expires on June 30, that will be the end of it. So there is no reason to hold hearings on your bill. They would be a waste of time and effort."

Undertaken by this rebuff, Eberhart has written a letter to Treasury Secretary George Humphrey asking his views on the measure. Note: Reed is telling colleagues that House Republican leaders have promised to allow him to bring his bill to cut income taxes this year before the full house for a vote by May 20. If that is done, the chamber will approve the measure by an overwhelming majority.

George Sokolsky Says...

Radio, TV Industries Will Have To Take Movie Plan For Combatting Communists

CONTROVERSIAL PERSONS

In the radio and television industries, a category of human beings has been devised known as "the controversial person." By that is meant an actor, writer, commentator, etc., who has at some time in his life taken a position on a public question which has attracted attention. This is not new. During most of the New Deal, many Republicans were regarded as controversial persons. Even John T. Flynn, Fulton Oursler, Jr., and I were rejected as controversial persons at one time or another. Now, Communist, anti-Communist, friendly witnesses, unfriendly witnesses, men who at great risk testified truthfully before Congressional committees, men who lived in the same places, are all lumped together as controversial persons. There is no adequate evaluation, no top level understanding of the problems, and no separation of the sheep from the goats. A rule of thumb decision to keep controversial people away from sponsorship and, if possible, off the air is the sole guide.

In the motion picture industry, since April, 1951, the problem of preventing Communists from using that industry as a treasury for the Communist Party has been handled with intelligence and has met with an astonishing degree of success. A program devised by a self-appointed group of outsiders was quickly accepted by most of the companies. The program might be stated simply as follows:

1. A person makes his own record. Only he can clarify it; 2. Those who can establish that they are no longer Communists or pro-Communists, or sympathizers of Soviet Russia or engaged in anti-American activities, and who, by their conduct show a sincere change of heart, or who risk themselves by providing needed information, must not be regarded as Communists and must be permitted to work; 3. Those who take refuge under the Fifth Amendment or who refuse to aid in anti-Communist activities have their own anti-American decisions and as their choice is voluntary, they must accept the consequences which flow from that decision; 4. All this work must be done without vindictiveness but rather in the missionary spirit of winning Americans back to American life.

I cite the example of John Huston, who had organized the Committee for the First Amendment while the Communists captured it. Recently, Huston, in Italy, put up a fight against employing Communists on pictures he made in that country, which was heroic and has been described to me as doing more against Russia in Italy than the Marshall Plan. Similarly, Edward G. Robinson, in Cannes, France, kicked up a row against an insult to the American flag.

Men like these, whatever their past, are today valiant in their defense of their country. And that is all that counts. Yet, Robinson has been rejected by radio and television as a controversial person by some ignoramus who refuses to get at the facts.

Sooner or later, the radio and television and the advertising industries will have to accept the Motion Picture Program, which is the only one that has been effective. In the operation of this program, no lawyers, no fixers, no public relations counsel, no officials of the national associations of the motion picture industry were used in any way. Their counsel was rejected because they were parties at interest. It had to be an activity in which money did not pass hands and no special interests were served.

It has been a success. There is not a Communist Front operating in Hollywood today that matters. There are many in New York and the radio and television industries are affected by them.

In radio and television, some of those who have worked hardest for the success of this program are still controversial persons because some lazy bureaucrat in the advertising firms along Madison Avenue in New York finds it easier to kill a man's career than to work on a serious public problem.

However, it is not unbelievable that those who spend their money on advertising on radio and television can afford the involvement that this attitude will bring upon them. It is not only a lazy attitude; it is unjust, it is a rejection of every decent American principle of life, for it not only rejects a person's right to principles of life, but it denies him the opportunity to change his mind, to confess, to be contrite and to remedy his situation. It fails to grasp the significance of anti-Marxism in the arts.

Backstage With a Senator and an Editor

There is nothing so wretched as a man who attempts to defy facts. The truth inevitably makes him somewhat of a liar. After editor James Wechsler (the former high official of the Young Communist League) testified before Senator McCarthy's investigating committee, he tried to create the impression that the Senator represented a "threat to America's free press" and he depleted himself as a journalistic martyr. Wechsler (who called himself Arthur Lawson when he was a Young Communist Leaguer) hammed things up with his self-esteem and self-pity. Dismal reflections of a weak and pathetic figure, the martyr's cloak cannot hide his naked shame. Wechsler alias Lawson demands adulation but deserves contempt.

Many newsmen have rebuked Congressmen and have been assailed by them including this columnist. The free press survived. The truth is—that this exchange of criticism—indicates democracy's strength. Significantly, the native subversives have consistently utilized the Bill of Rights as a refuge and they have loudly contended that civil liberties are menaced—when they are exposed. Wechsler (alias Lawson) has neither the (deleted by the editor.)

His pompously dull report (on the probes studying subversives and former communists) excluded an abundance of pertinent evidence. Although he now poses as a "vigorous anti-Communist," Wechsler (alias Lawson) previously testified (under oath) that Dorothy Schiff's paper "followed the Communist party line for a year or more." That was at the time this "vigorous anti-Communist" was employed and covered Washington for that rag.

The former Young Communist League executive Wechsler (alias Lawson) also neglected to mention that on Aug. 12th, 1948, his paper (The N. Y. Post) dismissed the Red menace as "malarky" and it opposed defense appropriations. On Aug. 6th, 1948, his paper attacked the probe of Red spies and propagandists by the House Comm. on un-American Activities. An investigation which resulted in the conviction of Alger Hiss, traitor.

His paper gave strenuous opposition to such probes—the opposition was shrill, insistent and frequent. On Jan. 18th, 1949, it made clear its opposition to the Smith Act—the only law we have—under which Communies (and their leaders) were convicted. On Sept. 23rd, 1949, (and often thereafter) it blamed the FBI's spy-hunting tactics. It also defended Dean Acheson's defense of Alger Hiss after Hiss was convicted.

The above is merely a portion of the indisputable public record which makes editor Wechsler's "vigorous anti-Communism" seem like a rather melancholy joke. The United Press reported (last week) that Wechsler "admitted having been a member of the Young Communist League."

He was not merely a passive member, he was an active official. Some of the others (on the same Executive Committee) became Red chiefs in the U. S. and they are now in jail. Some are on the lam.

It is well to remember that the Young Communist League was not simply an insignificant organization composed of youthful fools. It was Moscow's active ally. The Dept. of Justice describes the outfit as "subversive" and an "organization which sought to alter the form of Government of the United States by unconstitutional means." On Jan. 30th, 1940, the House Comm. on un-American Activities cited the group as "organized and maintained under strict Communist party control, having direct connections with Moscow."

There was great rejoicing when the towns leading liar announced that he decided to be baptized. They doused him in the creek's icy waters while the villagers watched. While a would-be stamp buyer stood impatiently in a village postoffice, two female clerks hatched over details of a big party the previous evening. "That girls dress must have cost a pretty bundle," guessed one. "Did you notice the metallic brocade, the inverted gores, etc., etc.?" Finally the stamp customer exploded with, "If it isn't too much trouble, would you sell me a purple stamp with a perforated horn, steel engraving, the back trevied with mullage, and the ensemble costing three cents?"

100 Children Helping SPCA Tag Days Here

More than 100 boys and girls will start out today with SPCA tag and coin containers for the benefit of the animal shelter maintained by the Monroe County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. They will be under the direction of Mrs. George Salvo and her committee who stressed that the best way to observe "Be Kind to Animal Week," is to contribute to the shelter.

Since last Labor Day approximately 600 animals have been cared for at the shelter, George Wakefield, custodian, has announced. About two-thirds of them have been dogs. The need for more doghouses, and for food, including drippings, are always welcome, he said. He is planning a detailed report of the number of animals cared for since he and Mrs. Wakefield took charge of the shelter.

Mrs. Ellen Albenzi, president of the local SPCA, has asked him to speak at the local schools to explain the needs of the shelter and how the children may help. He will speak today at Stroudsburg High School and on Wednesday at East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

Fisher, of Portland, at 7:30 p. m. on Saturday before the candle-lit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor in the presence of the immediate families and an intimate group of friends. Bouquets of tulips, daffodils and snow-on-the-mountain at the altar formed a background for the wedding party.

The bride couple knelt on a white satin pillow to receive the sacrament of Holy Communion.

The bride was attired in a blue and white check gabardine suit with matching accessories and wore a white gardenia corsage. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Emma Ferrante as matron of honor. Mrs. Ferrante wore a blue gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Paul Ivan Fisher, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home. A large tiered wedding cake formed the centerpiece for the bridal table.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left for a brief honeymoon in New York City. Mrs. Fisher will reside with her parents until her husband has completed his military service.

He was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1950, and prior to his enlistment in the US Air Corps was employed by the J. H. Beers Construction Co. Now a sergeant, he is stationed at the Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts.

Community Joins Music Week Recital

Music Week in the Stroudsburg opened last night with a community music service sponsored by the Music Study Club of the Stroudsburg in the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

The recital featured Richard Wilson, baritone, a student at Perkiomen Institute whose return for the second year brought out a large audience. His tremendous range, and the variety of his selections held the audience spell-bound.

The Music Club chorus and the Sextette under the direction of Frances H. LeBar shared honors with the young singer. Lucy F. Quig was organist and Marie Rutt and Eleanor Roberts, accompanists.

Ministers of cooperating churches aided in the program. Rev. Robert Bradburn of the Shawnee Presbyterian Church gave the invocation; Rev. Frank Blatt, Zion Reformed, the Scripture; Rev. Frank Wingerter, East Stroudsburg Presbyterian, the prayer; Rev. Harold C. Eaton of the East Stroudsburg Methodist the offertory and Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlson of St. John's Lutheran, the benediction.

Also joining in the service were members of the Stroudsburg Methodist, and Presbyterian, and the Grace Lutheran Church of East Stroudsburg.

Eight Damage Factors Are Eliminated

With the return of spring we're back in the "painting season" again. Go outside today and take a good look at your house. If it needs paint, you'd better read the rest of this article. It can save you a big "painting headache" and hundreds of dollars.

If there's a paint job in the offing at your house, don't be penny wise and paint foolish. This is the advice of the Paint Service Center, local Sherwin-Williams dealer, 517 Main St.

With Sherwin-Williams house paint you can guard against the eight vital danger spots encountered in a home painting job. With SWP exterior finishes you'll keep your house looking never longer, postpone early repainting and save money on maintenance.

The house paint that best protects the danger points in a home is the best buy in the long run. Ordinary paints just don't hold up and all too soon you are faced with a repainting job, often with expensive repairs and surface reconditioning.

With SWP house paint, five or six years of service are not unusual. The Paint Service Center points out. This is because SWP house paint is "Weathered" to defy the most rugged weather conditions, fight off depreciation and keep up the value of your home.

The "Weathered" process means that SWP has passed rigorous tests in the laboratory and in the field for its ability to fight off the destructive factors that made early repainting necessary.

Experience has shown that SWP weathered house paint guards your home against eight common paint failures:

1. It controls the loss of gloss.
2. It avoids a high dirt deposit.

Ettinger Is Given Stroud Courier Award

Charles W. Ettinger, legislative reporter for the Call-Chronicle newspapers of Allentown, last night received the Stroud Courier Award for outstanding work in the field of journalism.

The presentation of the award was made by Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, in behalf of the prize winning student newspaper at the annual banquet held at Charlton Lodge. The ceremony took place before an audience of fifty members of the staff, faculty members and friends.

Miss Marion Branick, senior from Simpson, Pa., retiring editor-in-chief, was also presented with the Editor's Award for outstanding work in the field of college journalism. It was largely through her efforts that the Stroud Courier again won, for the sixteenth time, the coveted first place award given by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association of Columbia University for outstanding excellence in college newspaper publication. Over 250 college and university newspapers participated in this annual competition.

Mr. Ettinger in his address of acceptance recounted his years of legislative experience in the field of professional reporting. He told of newspapers forty-five years ago and how newspapers had expanded, and developed and technically improved in this interval. He spoke of the present day highly pressurized system of lobbying carried on in our state capitols and in the national capitol. "The newspapers," he said, "are the only lobby that represent the citizen today."

He told of the implications to our educational system of the Chasterman Report and how an indignant public had repudiated for all time this attack on the right of worthwhile students to achieve an education in a democratic world. "The time has not come," he said, "when the students in our teachers colleges have to place their lives in jeopardy in order to have an education."

Dr. T. E. Terrill, head of the English department spoke briefly congratulating the staff for their fine work in winning the many awards during the past sixteen years, and also Miss Elaine Heines, former managing editor of the Stroud Courier for winning the Fulbright scholarship for a year of free study in France.

Dr. Clarence Dupe, professor of education, offered the invocation.

Committees for the annual banquet were as follows: Michael Soltys, general chairman; Marion Branick, Albert DeSousa, Larry Kleik, reception; Ted Shanowski, Pat Devers, Georgina Judge, Ted Evanish, program; Carolyn Cusack, Joan Charlton, Joan Williams, Marie Ihnat, Decorations; William Maddox, Thomas Davis, invitations; and Finance, Sal Verrastro, and Robert Edwards.

Sales Tax Is Defeated By Mock Assembly

Harrisburg, Pa.—A bill calling for a 1 per cent sales tax failed to win approval in the legislature conducted by more than 500 Pennsylvania college students.

The tax proposal, actually up before the State Legislature for the last five weeks, was voted down Saturday in the Model House by a close margin.

It would have exempted food, clothing, gasoline, otherwise taxed, steam, drugs, water and electricity sold by or to the state or any of its political subdivisions.

Another bill reported out by the taxation and finance committee of the Model House, calling for a constitutional amendment to permit a state income tax, also lost out on the floor.

The legislative session was conducted at the 17th annual meeting of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, with more than 40 colleges and universities of the state represented.

The Model House approved a bill calling for the abolition of the Pechan Loyalty Oath Act which requires state employees to affirm they do not belong to any subversive group. The students called for repeal of the state law on the grounds that other legislation amply takes care of the matter.

Another bill passed by the House sets up a State Fair Employment Practices Commission to eliminate discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed or national origin.

FEPC legislation has been before the real State Legislature since the 1953 session opened in January.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Shawnee Inn opened its 1953 summer season on Friday with the familiar face of Stan Dudas back in the golf shop. Stan, an assistant to Harry Obitz at Shawnee and one of the leading young golf professionals in the business today, was recently discharged from the Army after two years of service. Much of Stan's time was spent in Europe. Jack Ryan and Dick Farley are back with Obitz once again, but Jack Bove and Frank Minch, on the staff in recent years, are among the missing this season.

Minch, a resident of California, is scheduled to marry a school teacher at Washington, N. J., on the Fourth of July. Jerry Stulgaitis, football and baseball coach at Stroudsburg High, will be the best man at the wedding. The Little League baseball fever is moving into Tannersville now, and it should meet with complete success in this baseball minded community. The program probably won't begin until next summer, due to the many problems involved.

Pocono A.C. will feature new caps and stockings when the Monroe County baseball organization opens the Blue Mountain League flag race next Sunday, with Johnssonville supplying the opposition. The caps have blue crowns and red peaks. The letter "P" will be present on each cap. The stockings are red and blue. Pocono A.C. has a good financial outlook at the present time, due to sale of ads for the scorebook. The book is being printed at the present time. Clint Beseker and Frank Bell are caught between fishing, golf and their beloved Yankees. They have a tough time deciding in which direction to turn.

Al Adelmann, regular center fielder for Stroudsburg High's baseball team, is on the road to recovery following a recent illness, but the three-letter athlete is still plenty weak. The same stock car organization that is featuring Monday night shows at Philadelphia's mammoth Municipal Stadium will race at Stroudsburg Speedway this summer. Nazareth's track will also play host to the same club. The Monroe County Softball League opens its doors for the 1953 season today, with two games on the agenda.

Reports reaching this typewriter reveal that Frank Radler would manage the local American Legion baseball team, providing the club could get the right financial backing and a spot in the Northampton County League. Radler, with a wealth of playing and managerial experience, would be an outstanding choice for the position. Legion ball is the only link missing in Monroe County's baseball setup. We have adult teams, college, high school, Little League, and Little League, but the jump from Little League to high school and adult action features a wide gap in the spot where Legion baseball should be located.

Carlos Bernier, center fielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who equaled a major league record by hanging out three triples in Saturday's 12-4 victory over Cincinnati, opposed the Stroudsburg Poconos in a spring training game in Maryland in 1950. Bernier was playing center field for Bristol, Conn., of the now defunct class "B" Colonial League. Bernier hit .287 that season and led the league in stolen bases with a total of 53. Carl "Butch" Sawatski, catcher for Bloomington, N. J., of the North Atlantic League in 1947, banged out a pair of hits off Curt Simmons yesterday.

Both Sawatski and Simmons have played plenty of baseball at Gordon Giffels field. Lyle Krall, after a slow start this season, lashed out three hits in as many trips to the plate in a practice game between Pocono A. C. and Reiders yesterday, on the latter's home field. Reiders took advantage of two late inning errors to turn in a 10-9 victory. Bob Fabel is the official scorer for Pocono A. C. this season. Bob Schick, well known to every baseball fan in Stroudsburg, led the Reiders attack yesterday with three hits in five trips to the plate. Schick is playing center field for Reiders this season.

Sylvia Wene, Philadelphia, won the singles division of the Pennsylvania Women's Bowling Association in a special rolloff in Wilkes-Barre. Several local women took part in this tournament in recent weeks. The ESSTC girls' tennis team has won three matches this season, all by 5-0 scores, without a defeat. The Warriorettes meet stiff opposition this week in Swarthmore and Temple, both New York on Saturday. The ESSTC girls spent Friday night at the Empire Hotel. It is quite possible that there will be one or two changes in the ESSTC lineup for the Swarthmore matches tomorrow.

Rumors coming out of Allentown during the past weekend indicate that Ernest "Duke" Landgraf is going to attempt to revive the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League next season. A meeting is reportedly planned for next month in an effort to make plans for the future. Landgraf was president of the NAL from 1946, the year the circuit was formed, until the league's last season, 1950.

ESSTC Turns Trenton Into Third Diamond Victim

Warriors Even Record At Present Point

Trenton — A revitalized baseball squad from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College scored a 7-2 verdict over Trenton Teachers here Saturday, to run its winning streak to two straight games.

The win was the third in six outings for ESSTC, coached by George Ockershausen.

Bob Mellman, veteran right hander, notched his second win of the present campaign as his mates pounded out 11 hits against three Trenton hurlers. It was the best offensive showing of the current campaign by the Warriors.

Bill Fren's leadoff triple in the second and an outfield fly put the East Stroudsburg contingent in front to stay, although the outcome of the game was in doubt until the eighth and ninth innings, when the Warriors tallied four runs.

On Ice

ESSTC led 2-1 at the end of the fourth and 3-2 after five frames, before putting the game on ice with two tallies in the eighth and the same number in the ninth.

Mellman was never in trouble as he fanned 10 Trenton batters and gave up only five hits, all singles. Rain and wet grounds hampered the play of both teams, but Mellman fought off all obstacles to win, while issuing only two free tickets to first base.

Yankees Sink Tigers, 6-5

Detroit, (AP) The New York Yankees tallied four times in the ninth inning, the winning run scoring on relief pitcher Art Houtteman's wild pitch, to edge the Detroit Tigers 6-5 yesterday before 29,462 fans at Briggs Stadium.

After one man was retired, Phil Rizzuto was safe on an error. Phil apparently unnerved Billy Hoft, the Tiger starter, and the 20-year-old lefty gave up a single to Don Bollweg. He then walked Gene Woodling and Mickey Mantle, forcing across one run.

Wild Pitch

Houtteman, who has been a big disappointment for Detroit this season, replaced Hoft.

Irv Noren batted for "Hank" Bauer and came through with his first hit of the year, a two-run single to center that tied the score and sent Mantle to third.

With Gil McDougald at the plate, Houtteman fired a wild pitch, allowing Mantle to score.

New Track Record

Langhorne, Pa., (AP) "Buck" Baker, Charlotte, N. C., set a new track record yesterday when he roared across the finish line of the 150-mile Grand National Circuit stockcar race in 2:03.43.33.

Derby Post Mortems Still Being Heard At Churchill Downs

Louisville (AP) One of the loudest post-Kentucky Derby post mortems in many a year was spinning around mint julep town yesterday after Dark Star gave the business to Native Dancer's unbeaten streak in the 79th edition of the run for the roses.

Did the best horse win? The consensus was that he did not—that the big grey dancer should have copped the big three-year prize.

Nevertheless, take nothing away from Dark Star. He did the job they sent him out to do, and accomplished it with flying colors. The raging arguments settle nothing beyond the cold, hard fact that Native Dancer didn't win the derby, as most people expected he would.

Warriorettes Blank NYU In Tennis

New York — The girls of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College rolled to their third straight 5-0 tennis victory of the season here Saturday morning, with New York University the victim. The match was held at the Kelton Tennis Stadium, Broadway and 235th St.

The ESSTC lassies have yet to taste defeat this season.

Scores

Jean Flecht opened the singles division with a 6-0, 6-0 verdict over NYU's Peg Schroeder, while Nancy Noll, ESSTC, won by identical scores over Hannah Calkins in the number two singles. Elaine Hardenbergh completed the singles sweep by the visiting squad with a 6-0, 6-3 nod over Georg Jean Brenner.

Mary Martin and Marion Lopez, ESSTC, teamed to win the first doubles match from Schroeder and Calkins, 6-1, 6-4. Ethel Moyer and Martha McAndrew, ESSTC, won the final doubles match from Sue Gohmar and Sue Libin, 6-0, 6-1.

ESSTC receives its toughest test of the current campaign tomorrow, when Swarthmore invades the Normal Hill courts at 3:30 p.m.

Phillies Clip Cubs Twice

Philadelphia (AP) — Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a double victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday, Roberts handcuffing the Cubs with six hits for a 5-1 decision before southpaw Simmons came on and shut out Chicago 2-0 in the nightcap.

Simmons scored the Phils' first run in the nightcap in the seventh inning, coming home on Johnny Wyrostek's single to center after leading off with a single. The young hurler drove in Willie Jones from second with another single in the eighth.

Lane Run

Roberts shut out Chicago in the opener until the ninth, when "Hank" Sauer singled, went to third on a double by Preston Ward and scored on an outfield fly by Bill Serena. Connie Ryan homered for the Phillies in the first game off Bob Rush, the loser. Warren Hacker was charged with the second game loss.

Ryan's blast led off a three-run sixth. Later, Johnny Wyrostek singled, Earl Torgeson drew a walk and Gran Hanner scored both of them with a double to right.

Indians Club Washington

Cleveland (AP) A two-run homer by Larry Doby gave Mike Garcia the margin of victory yesterday as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Washington Nationals, 4-3, in the first game of a doubleheader after Early Wynn had blanked the Nats on three hits in the opener, 7-0, for his 10th straight victory since last Aug. 24.

Wynn's defeat was at the hands of the Nats, 9-8, in a relief role. He completed the 1952 campaign with a seven-game streak, and has won three in a row this season, with the score tied, 2-2.

Slump

A double and a single by Jackie Jensen and a single by Eddie Yost were the only Washington hits in the first game. Jensen homered off Garcia in the nightcap after Doby had put the Indians ahead. Doby, benched in the first game because of his prolonged batting slump, slammed his decisive home run off Walt Masterson in the sixth inning of the second game. Connie Marrero lost the first game for Washington.

Reiders Takes Advantage Of Errors To Trip Pocono A.C.

Reiders — Throwing errors by Fred "Satch" Gahres and Bill Shires enabled Reiders to score one run in the bottom of the ninth and final inning, which proved to be the deciding run in a 10-9 exhibition baseball game with Pocono A. C. played here yesterday.

Pirates Down Cardinals Behind Lindell

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Johnny Lindell, 36-year-old Pittsburgh Pirates' knuckleball specialist, stopped the St. Louis Cardinals 8-2 on four hits yesterday for his first National League victory. The victory extended the Pirates' winning streak to five games.

Lindell, former major league outfielder who won 24-9 for Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League, allowed only two balls to leave the infield in the first six innings. "Rip" Repulski singled and Del Rice fled to right.

The veteran righthander, making his third start of the season, weakened in the seventh and the Cardinals pushed over two runs.

Third Homer

Frank Thomas, rookie outfielder for the Pirates, belted his third home run of the season in the fifth for the first run. He also collected a double and a single.

Harvey Haddix, 27-year-old southpaw, started for the Cards and pitched excellent ball until the seventh when the Pirates spurred for four runs. The Cards added three more in the eighth.

No Doubt Of Result After First Inning

Tobyhanna — Tobyhanna opened the Pocono Mountains Association yesterday with a crushing 24-5 victory over Maple Lake in a baseball game that was halted after seven and one-half innings because of the size of the score. The game was played here on the Coolbaugh High field.

Maple Lake threw five pitchers into the battle, but the free-swinging Tobyhanna contingent banged out 20 safeties, or an average of four per pitcher. Manager Spencer "Spence" Walker and Al Konopka divided the winning mound chore with Walker being credited with the victory.

The outcome of the battle was never in doubt after the home team jumped into a 3-1 lead at the end of the first inning and continued to pile up the score the remainder of the distance.

One Blank

Tobyhanna failed to score only in the second round, but came back with two in the third, three in the fourth, two in the fifth, six in the sixth and eight markers in the seventh frame.

Only one member of the winning club failed to deliver at least a single in the 20-hit attack.

Tobyhanna plays its second game of the season next Sunday, at Mount Cobb, with the PMA entry of that locality supplying the opposition.

GOOD FLY ROD....

THIS IS A FAST-ACTION ROD ITS THE BEST CHOICE FOR ALL-AROUND FISHING. RUN A LINE THROUGH ROD'S GUIDES AND TIE IT TO A DISTANT OBJECT. HOLDING ROD GRIP AT A RIGHT ANGLE TO THE LINE, SLOWLY BRING ROD BACK TO BEND TIP. ITS A TRUE TEST FOR ACTION.

WHEN THE BEND EXTENDS TOWARD THE GRIP, AS HERE, USING THE SAME PRESSURE AS EXERTED IN THE TOP ROD, ITS A WEAK, WHIPPY ROD WITHOUT BACKBONE NEEDED FOR EASY CASTING. YOU WANT A FAST-ACTION ROD WITH MOST OF THE BEND TOWARD THE TIP BUT THE TIP SHOULD NOT BE TOO LIMBER.

AVOID WHIPPY RODS OR THOSE THAT BEND INTO A NEAT CIRCLE. YOU CAN'T CAST WITH A CIRCLE!

Gavilan Suffers Upset Defeat At Hands Of
Womber For First Loss In Almost Three Years

By John Meisell
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Welterweight Champion "Kid" Gavilan's long unbeaten string was at an end yesterday but the Cuban flash has no intention of giving his surprise conqueror, Danny "Bang Bang" Womber a title shot.

Womber, an aggressive fighter who has done most of his fighting abroad, turned in the fight upset of the year Saturday night when he pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision over the champion at the War Memorial auditorium.

A former sparring partner of Sugar Ray Robinson and managed by George Gairford, who handled the retired middleweight king, Womber said "I'd like to fight him for the title. I'll try awfully hard to take him."

But Angel Lopez, Gavilan's

manager, said "we have no idea of fighting him again. Gavilan won the fight. He won six rounds easily."

Reason
Gavilan thought he won too. "Womber is good," said the Kid. "He gives a good show. But I didn't think the decision was fair enough."

"When I consider myself defeated, I'll give a man a chance at the title. When I don't consider a man defeated me, he has no right to it."

Lopez said Gavilan had a title match coming up July 1 in Los Angeles. He didn't say who the opponent was but it is understood he will meet Art Aragon of Los Angeles.

Gavilan hadn't lost a fight since he dropped a split decision to middleweight Gene Hairston in Scranton, Pa., October 30, 1950. Since then he had piled up 27 victories and had been held to a draw by Johnny Bratton, the former NBA welterweight champion.

Womber, a 26-year old Negro who has done most of his campaigning abroad, hadn't won in his last five fights, four of them against middleweights. He dropped four decisions and fought one draw. He is ranked as the number six welterweight contender.

Gavilan, at 151, was sluggish and fought only in spurts. Womber scaled 152½ and he kept wading in at the camp.

Referee Ruby Goldstein voted it 6-3-1 for Womber and Judge Dick Albino saw it the same way. Judge Jack Kimball had Womber in front 5-3-2.

Dodgers Nip Braves On Gilliam's Single, 4-3

Brooklyn, (AP) — Junior Gilliam's seventh-inning single, scoring Don Thompson, gave Brooklyn its sixth straight victory yesterday, 4-3, as Billy Loes held Milwaukee to three hits.

Thompson singled with one out in the seventh to open the Brooks' winning spurt. Loes sacrificed him to second and Gilliam rode him home with a single to center.

Gilliam now has been on base in every Dodgers game with 18 hits and 18 walks. The flashy rookie second baseman is hitting .310.

Early Lead
Brooklyn opened up a 3-0 lead on unbeaten Max Surkont in the third on a walk, two extra base hits and an error. Gilliam walked and scored on Duke Snider's screaming double high off the scoreboard in right field. Jackie Robinson's triple on which Sid Gordon made a diving but unsuccessful try, drove in Snider. Robinson also scored when Surkont dropped Johnny Logan's throw to the plate after touching Jackie with the ball. Robinson had attempted to score on Roy Campanella's pop to shortstop.

Two unearned runs off Loes resulted from an error by Gilliam on Jack Dittmer's grounder, a triple by Bill Bruton and an error by Roy Campanella. Snider seemed to misjudge Bruton's long smash, slipping as he dove in a belated stab at the ball. Bruton would have been out at the plate if Campanella had held "Pee-wee" Reese's relay from Snider.

Crandall's second homer of the year with two out in the seventh was a 360-foot drive into the lower left-field seats. It tied the score and set the stage for Gilliam's winning hit.

County Native Returns From Six-Month Trip To Africa

An 87-year-old Monroe County native who retired from the ministry 15 years ago still likes to travel.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Miller, now of New Castle, Pa., recently returned from a six-month journey to South Africa.

He made the trip primarily to see his son, T. Kenneth Miller, manager of the Firestone enterprises in South Africa with headquarters at Capetown.

But that was only the start of the trip. From Capetown, Dr. Miller visited practically every African installation owned by the rubber firm, traveling an additional 4,000 miles within the continent by car and truck.

The voyage to Capetown was non-stop. Coming back, the retired Lutheran minister took the eastern route. He traveled through the Suez Canal to Venice, thence to Switzerland, through the Rhine Valley, Holland, France and Britain, thence home.

Despite his advanced years, Dr. Miller never became ill during the entire trip, although many younger passengers on the ship had some disagreeable times.

Dr. Miller was born near Reeders and left here about 1895 for Western Pennsylvania. His wife, the former Anna Levering of Stroudsburg, died nearly two years ago.

Among his relatives living in this section are nieces and nephews, including Mrs. Emory Anglemire and Jacob Miller, Reeders; Mrs. Fred Anglemire, Tannersville; Percy Miller, Long Pond.

If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
